

Build an HTML structure to represent filter options, ensuring each option is organized within a container, such as a ``, for clarity and easy styling. Include form elements like checkboxes, radio buttons, or dropdowns to allow users to select or deselect specific filters.